

Hello

MEET LENYA HEITZIG

BIO

Lenya Heitzig is an award-winning author and speaker whose passion for women, God's Word, and worship influences others to recognize God's miraculous hand in the midst of the mundane.

As executive director of she Ministries, Lenya annually encourages thousands of women to see God's Word do His work in their lives through weekly Bible studies, national conferences, regional retreats, and her website, sheabq.org.

FOR OVER 30 YEARS, HER MINISTRY HAS INSPIRED OTHERS TO:

- Crave a profound experience in God's Word without an overwhelming amount of time
- Long for "holy moments" in unexpected places by recognizing God's providential presence
- Pray God-sized prayers based on His promise to do exceedingly abundantly in their lives
- Defeat the enemy through spiritual warfare since life is a battleground, not a playground
- Believe that God can turn a mess into a message and a test into a testimony

Lenya and her team at she Ministries encourage women worldwide through a local, weekly Bible study that is live-streamed on sheabq.org. The site averages over 10,000 visitors monthly, offering Titus 2 encouragement from DIY projects to recipes, from heart-hitting articles to one-on-one discipleship.

Lenya has shared the platform with Kay Arthur, Anne Graham Lotz, Becky Tirabassi, and Joni Eareckson Tada. She has been a featured keynote presenter at multiple national women's events and retreats. She has partnered with Florence Littauer and CLASS Seminars. She also chaired the women's committee for the Billy Graham and Franklin Graham Crusade in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Her greatest privilege is being the wife of Skip Heitzig, pastor of Calvary Albuquerque with a congregation of 15,000 members. She loves cooking for her family, whether falafels or frankfurters. As a Pinterest fanatic, her DIY projects fill closets, countertops, containers, and eventually the hearts and homes of her loved ones. Her motto is "Run so you can eat." Most days, she hits the trail with her faithful dog, Mack. Lenya has one son, Nathan, who is married to her daughter-in-love, Janaé. They have two children, Seth Nathaniel and Kaydence Joy.

OUT- REACH

Lenya's passionate pursuit of God captured national media attention after 9/11 when she launched Mercy B.A.N.D.s (Bearing Another's Name Daily), silver bracelets inscribed with the names of individual casualties of terror. In less than a year, over 60,000 bands were distributed coast to coast and to foreign countries. Nearly 2,000 bracelets were given at no cost to family members. During the anthrax scare, each member of the U.S. Senate was hand-delivered a bracelet. Her story appeared in the Washington Times, New York Daily News, Dallas Morning News, Albuquerque Journal, Denver Post, Decision Magazine, and an interview on ABC's Nightline.

Recently, other victims of terror have captured her attention—children caught in the crossfire of geopolitical lines, clashing ideologies, stray bullets, and shrapnel. Infants are innocent regardless of the race, religion, or regional boundaries of their parents. Sadly, they fall victim to violence simply for living in a place where terror strikes indiscriminately. Reload Love helps heal the lives of little ones who have suffered from the violence of terrorism. By transforming spent bullet casings into brass charms and donating the proceeds, as well as raising public awareness of their tragedy, we arm children with hope.

Here are the facts: In 2011, the National Counterterrorism Center reported that 755 children died in terrorist acts. Over the last decade, more than 20 million children have been forced to flee homes due to human rights violations. The number increases daily. Like the psalmist, we long for a future when there will be "justice to the fatherless and the oppressed, so that man who is of the earth may strike terror no more" (Ps. 10:18, ESV). The most vulnerable need our help!

"My life is committed to helping women discover that God's Word does His work in their lives. As both an author and teacher, my heart rejoices to witness gals move forward in spiritual maturity. I love seeing others empowered by the Spirit to pray more powerfully and pursue God more passionately. I long to see God move outrageously in this generation!"
